

A Reef of Rainbow
Frank W. Boreham

Frank Boreham was a well known preacher who served in England, Australia, and New Zealand. He published dozens of books and thousands of editorials during his lifetime, with no sign of slowing down, even up until his death at age 88. He wrote with a distinctive style, seeming to be able to draw a spiritual lesson out of any conceivable topic.

Taking his cue from the imagination of a child, Boreham compares a rainbow to a reel of fabric, which can be unrolled as often as you require a new length. Inviting us into this image, he offers each essay in this collection as if it were a new length of rainbow that he is presenting to us. -Summary by Devorah Allen

Read by Librivox volunteers . Total running time: 05:19:23

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org.

Cover picture portrait of author. Copyright expired in U.S., Canada, EU. and all countries with author's life +70 yrs laws. Cover design by Annise. This design is in the public domain.

A Reef of Rainbow
Frank W. Boreham